Transaction Costs	0.08%
Total Investment Charge	1.30%

Total Expense (TER): This ratio shows the charges, levies and fees relating to the management of the portfolio and is expressed as a percentage of the average net asset value of the portfolio, calculated over the period shown and annualised to the most recently completed quarter. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER should not be regarded as an indication of future TERs.

Transaction Costs (TC): This ratio shows the percentage of the value of the fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the fund's underlying assets. TC are a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. Total Investment Charges (TIC): This ratio is simply the sum of the TER and TC, showing the percentage of the value of the fund incurred as costs relating to the investment of the fund. It should be noted that performance figures account for all costs included in the TIC ratio, so you should not deduct the TIC from performance figures, the performance is already net of the TIC.

Fund review

The quarter has been a tale of two halves, with the strong performance of July and August snuffed out by a significant risk off trade in September.

In SA, the slowdown in China combined with supply bottlenecks resulted in a significant sell off in mining stocks and luxury goods (CFR) during September. Our domestic equity fell 3.6% in September but was up 2.7% for the quarter. SA bonds sold off 2% in September in sympathy with global bonds and a shift in inflation expectations and provide an attractive entry point at current levels. Our bond fund has performed in line with its benchmark. The local currency was not spared and lost -3.6% against the USD as the risk-off trade took hold in September, for the quarter the local currency fell 5.2% against the USD.

Commodity prices have also been volatile, with oil, coal and LNG prices spiking as supply constraints and higher demand cause widespread shortages. Conversely chip supply shortages have caused a slowdown in global vehicle production and rising stocks of PGM metals have resulted in a sharp selloff in this commodity basket. As a result our platinum counters fell 21% (AMS) and 17.5% (IMP) in September. Sasol on the other hand was up 27% for the month, and MTN continued its strong run with a 6% rise, taking its annual performance to 103%. MTN's exposure to the oil dependant Nigerian economy does make it something of an oil hedge.

Market overview

September was a stormy month in the markets. Investors have become increasingly concerned about the slowdown in growth momentum given elevated valuations and more hawkish rhetoric from central banks. Persistent inflation, supply bottlenecks, the risk of a fiscal "cliff" and developments in China pose near term headwinds to the growth outlook. COVID-19 with its variants continue to impact consumer's behaviour and spending plans, while debt ceiling concerns in the US have escalated. Although the world economy is going through a soft patch, investors will do well to look through the current mountain of concerns, many of which we believe are temporary in nature and rather focus on the cyclical economic recovery that remains firmly in place, fuelled by pent up demand, robust employment and an inventory rebuild that will continue to provide an underpin to corporate earnings and returns from risk assets. As we enter the next phase of the recovery cycle, security selection and a focus on fundamentals will become increasingly important to safeguard against any missteps from policy makers as support measures are slowly reined in.

Global equity markets sold off during the month, with Japan the only major developed market ending in positive territory. At the end of the quarter global equity markets returned -1.1% with EM underperforming DM's given China's woes. Discretionary and Materials were under pressure during the quarter while Energy and Financials outperformed. Global bonds were not spared and lost more than their starting yields during the month as central banks have become more hawkish. From a FX perspective, the greenback has benefited from a more uncertain environment and widening interest rate differentials.

Looking ahead

The September sell off reminds us that there will be bumps along the road (e.g. inflation, COVID and trade war scares) but the path of least resistance is for equity markets to grind higher off conservative earnings expectations. Nonetheless we think that the current environment contains risks that are best handled by a well diversified portfolio.
